
Healthcare priority setting in SSA

Role of Private Sector

HTAi/iDSI conference on Setting priorities fairly. Accra, 26-27
September 2018

Charles Ngoh

Private sector can play a role in all three dimensions to consider when moving towards universal coverage

Opportunities for private sector support in priority setting and achieving UHC are many (1)

Supporting the setup of tailored HTA structures, processes and approaches to enable efficient use of resources

Providing evidence required to enable informed decision-making on coverage when structures and processes are in place

Offering pricing schemes including international differential pricing to improve affordability

Opportunities for private sector support in priority setting and achieving UHC are many (2)

Offering patient support programmes to address affordability in the out-of-pocket segment

Driving initiatives to improve risk-pooling healthcare financing opportunities

Implementing company-led access initiatives, including capacity building

And where do the public health authorities come in?

Governments need to embrace priority setting, transparent and evidence based decision-making, and make these healthcare policy priorities

Doing now what patients need next